COMPANY EXPERIENCE

Mark Bizek started his career in industrial real estate on the developer side of the industry. Hailing from a family of developers and president of a development company, he comes to Advent Commercial with a knowledge of steel-frame pre-fabricated building construction and civic infrastructure. He also brings vast research experience, having worked as a researcher and an assistant editor of an academic journal during his tenure at the University of Calgary, where he acquired a Master's degree in Political Science. Further, as a co-founder and board member of a number of non-profit organizations in the city of Calgary, Mark has excellent experience in developing group strategies and facilitation.
